EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Lindsay McGuinness on 12 December 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the first line of Claim 9, replace "includes" with "further including".

In the last section of Claim 11, replace "and an override bit not being set by the second device." with "and an override bit that enables the first device to control the shared resource."

REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
3. In light of the applicant's amendments and remarks, Claim 1 is considered allowable, particularly due to the limitation that the set of control bits includes an override bit for enabling a first one of the devices to take control of the resource. This limitation in combination with the rest of the claim is not anticipated not rendered obvious by the prior art of record.

4. Claim 4 is considered allowable based on its dependence upon Claim 1.

5. In light of the applicant's amendments and remarks, Claim 3 is considered allowable, particularly due to the limitation that the set of control bits includes a reset bit for resetting the mux coupled between the devices and the resource. This limitation in combination with the rest of the claim is not anticipated not rendered obvious by the prior art of record.

6. Claims 5-7 are considered allowable based on their dependence upon Claim 3.

7. In light of the applicant's amendments and remarks, Claim 8 is considered allowable, particularly due to the limitation that the first device can set an override bit to take control of the shared resource. This limitation in combination with the rest of the claim is not anticipated not rendered obvious by the prior art of record.

8. Claim 9 is considered allowable based on its dependence upon Claim 8.

9. In light of the applicant's amendments and remarks and the examiner's amendment above, Claim 11 is considered allowable, particularly due to the limitation that the an override bit enables the first device to control the shared resource. This limitation in combination with the rest of the claim is not anticipated not rendered obvious by the prior art of record.

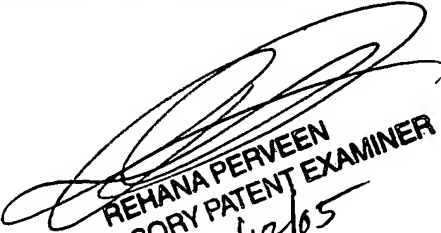

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
